

Lighten your Home with these Decorative Candles

Author : Kanchan Agarwal

Categories : Home Decor

Tagged as : beauty, decoration, Floating Pool Candle, style

Date : 15/09/2013

Sometimes small things enhance the beauty of the home. These small things include decorative candles also..!! Friends, decorative candles simply add dramatic height and luminous color to the table, corners of your home. Decorative candles are uniquely versatile decor elements.

They add a subtle artistic flair to their surroundings, but burning they become objects d'art that glow warmly while producing flickering shadows and even exotic aromas. Beautiful decorative candles add that special glow to the house and set the mood for the party.

Home decorative candles come in an endless variety of sizes & shapes, from tapers, Votives, pillars and Tealights to container/jar candles, floating candles, liturgical candles, outdoor candles, novelty candles, utility candles, & birthday candles.

Everything seems lovelier by candlelight. Candles add warmth, style and ambiance to any room in the home.

Click Next for Next tips...

So, here are some creative ideas for candle decoration to give your home a shining and unique look..

Glass Candle

This is very common way to give your candles a creative look.. If you have designer glasses then move it upside down and place the candle on it. you can even keep some flowers on d table, and then place that glass upside down on flowers. Those flowers will enhance the beauty. You can place large diameter small size candles on it.. This decorative candle is a charming addition to any home.

Pool candle

Floating Pool Candle casts soft candle light that reflects off your water feature for stunning effects. If you are looking to give a new look to your garden then decorate your garden with these lovely floating pool candles. The 5" to 6" in diameter floating candles will give you much more success. For one thing, you will see them better and pool candles this size generally have edges that go up. With edges going up and a larger surface area, they are able to stay more afloat and able to resist a little breeze and some water movement.

Place any big bowl or plate having depth or any other stylish container, and diffuse white flower petals or any other pretty flowers. Place floating candles in them and lighten them. You can also sprinkle perfume in it. To help keep your floating candles in a specific area in your pool, just melt on a little bit of wax (from an old candle) and attach some dental floss to the bottom of the candle.

Apple candles

Whether you're looking for a fall-like, vibrant centerpiece or you'd like to see a different way to light the night, creating votive candles from the center of an apple is a unique and creative way to make a statement. All you'll need are a few colorful apples, votive candles, and a few small supplies that you already have in your home.

Hollow out the apple with your spoon. Place the votive candle inside it. These candles let off a wonderful aroma and will brighten up the mood in your living area for sure!

Go for these decorative candles ideas for your home on this auspicious occasion of Diwali.